Participation is free!

Come to Berlin!
27th April to
3th May 2014

- Are you a trainer in the field of adult vocational education?
- Are you working with functional illiterates?

This project has been carried out with the support of the European Commission. The responsibility for the content of this publication reflects only the writer's views, the Commission shall not be liable for further use of the disclosures contents.

Our Workshop:

- develops a concept for using social media as a teaching method
- provides presentations and tests for various social media platforms
- gives a chance to practically exchange with other trainers
- creates with you a social media platform, for international exchange, also after the workshop
- takes place in Berlin from 27th April to 3th May 2014
